

News Release

4th<sup>t</sup> April 2011

Nufarm to open a new regional office at Milton Keynes

To serve its growing UK branded agchem business, Nufarm is to open a new regional office at Lodge Farm Business Park near Castlethorpe, Milton Keynes. The office will open in mid April and the site will also act as a demonstration centre for Nufarm products.

We chose the location for the proximity to major road and rail networks and its position at the hub of the UK arable farming area said Jon Staton, Nufarm marketing manager.

'Nufarm have an extensive pipeline of new products over the next 4 or 5 years' added Mr Staton. 'This will be an excellent opportunity to show these new products alone and in programmes and to demonstrate their technical and commercial fit with other chemistry.'

Two or three staff members will be based from the office but mobile and email contact details for Nufarm staff will remain the same.