Fatality at Laverton manufacturing site

Nufarm Limited said today that it is co-operating with the relevant authorities to fully investigate the circumstances surrounding yesterday's death of a worker at the company's Laverton North manufacturing site.

Managing Director Doug Rathbone said the fatality – the first in nearly 40 years of operations at the site – is a tragedy that has deeply affected employees. Appropriate support is being provided to all employees.

The accident occurred in a section of the plant that will not impact the ongoing operation of production activity at the site.
